

Academic Role Profile

Job Title:	Lecturer (A) (Research and Teaching Track)
-------------------	---

Responsible to:	Head of Department or Faculty
------------------------	-------------------------------

Responsible for:	Not applicable
-------------------------	----------------

Job Summary and Purpose
To develop a personal research portfolio in line with the Faculty's research strategy, to teach at undergraduate and postgraduate level, and to participate in Faculty administration, as appropriate. The duties of the role may be carried out with the guidance of a mentor, if required.

Main Responsibilities/Activities
To support the research activities of the Faculty by: Developing the research activities of the Faculty by developing an area of personal research and expertise, independently and/or in collaboration with others as part of a larger research team. Undertaking research activities (sometimes under supervision) in accordance with a specific project plan, and supervising and guiding the work of staff and research students on own specialist area. Assisting with the development of research proposals and funding bids, with appropriate support, as a self-contained item or as part of a broader programme. Publishing original research in appropriate journals or other media, as appropriate. Attending appropriate conferences for the purpose of disseminating research results or for personal development Sustaining and developing professional expertise and maintaining the requirements for registration with the appropriate body under the guidance of a senior colleague (for academics with clinical links only). May have responsibility for research staff employed on programmes and awards directed by the post holder. To support the teaching objectives of the Faculty by: Helping to develop new teaching methods and design programme units, and sharing responsibility for the quality of programme units. Planning, delivering and critically reviewing a range of teaching and assessment activities including lectures. Assisting with the training and supervision of students (including research students) and acting as a tutor for industrial/professional training year students, according to own area of subject specialism.

Academic Role Profile

Setting/marking programme work, practical sessions, supervisions, fieldwork and examinations according to own area of subject specialism, and providing appropriate feedback to students.

Taking part in activities such as validating and examining in relation to the University's associated institutions.

To engage in scholarship by:

Continually updating knowledge and understanding in the field or specialism and translating the knowledge of advances in the subject area into the course of study.

To undertake pastoral care of students

Using listening, interpersonal and pastoral care skills to deal with sensitive issues concerning students and providing support. Appreciating the needs of individual students and their circumstances. Acting as personal tutor and giving first line support referring students as appropriate to services providing further help.

To contribute to the efficient management and administration of the Faculty by:

Performing such personal administrative duties throughout the Faculty as are recognised by the University as properly within the remit of the work of academic staff, as allocated by the Head of Faculty. Such duties may include, for example, library representative, year tutor.

Person Specification

The post holder must have:

An honours degree or an appropriate and equivalent professional qualification in a relevant subject.

Normally a doctoral degree or be working towards a doctoral degree or an equivalent research degree

Evidence of teaching and presentational skills or potential.

Evidence of administrative/organisational skills or potential.

Evidence of current research/scholarship at doctoral level or equivalent, and potential for development

Academic Role Profile

Relationships and Contacts

The post holder will be a member of such Faculty Committees as may be relevant to their administrative duties, for example Faculty Board of Studies and Examination Board. New appointees will be assigned a senior colleague to guide their development and aid their integration into the Faculty and university. Research priorities will be agreed within the strategic framework of the research theme of which they are a member. Teaching and administrative duties will be allocated by the Head of Faculty, within the context of the teaching programmes agreed by the Faculty Learning and Teaching Committee or similar body.

Special Requirements

To be able to participate in residential field work, in the UK or overseas, according to own area of subject specialism.

The post holder is expected to work outside normal office hours as necessary.

All staff are expected to:

- Positively support equality of opportunity and equity of treatment to colleagues and students in accordance with the University of Surrey Equal Opportunities policy.
- Help maintain a safe working environment by:
 - Attending training in Health and Safety requirements as necessary, both on appointment and as changes in duties and techniques demand
 - Following local codes of safe working practices and the University of Surrey Health and Safety Policy
- Undertake such other duties within the scope of the post as may be requested by your Manager.

Academic Role Profile

Job Title:	Lecturer (B) (Research and Teaching Track)
Responsible to:	Head of Department or Faculty
Responsible for:	Research staff employed on programmes and awards directed by the post holder. May have supervisory responsibility for other staff.

Job Summary and Purpose

To develop a personal research portfolio in line with the Faculty's research strategy, to teach at undergraduate and postgraduate level, and to participate in Faculty administration.

Main Responsibilities/Activities

To support the research activities of the Faculty by:

Developing the research activities of the Faculty by sustaining a personal research plan independently and/or in collaboration with others as part of a larger research team.

Managing and undertaking research activities in accordance with a specific project plan, and supervising and guiding the work of staff and research students on own specialist area.

Developing innovative research proposals (as a self-contained item or as part of a broader programme), identifying sources of funding, submitting funding bids, and gaining positive reviews for these. Planning the research to be undertaken.

Publishing original research in appropriate journals or other media, as appropriate.

Attending appropriate conferences for the purpose of disseminating research results or for personal development.

Sustaining and developing professional expertise and maintaining the requirements for registration with the appropriate body (for academics with clinical links only).

To support the teaching objectives of the Faculty by:

Developing new teaching methods and designing programme units, and taking responsibility for the quality of programme units.

Planning, delivering and critically reviewing a range of teaching and assessment activities including lectures.

Training and supervising of students (including research students) and acting as a tutor for industrial/professional training year students, according to own area of subject specialism.

Setting/marking programme work, practical sessions, supervisions, fieldwork and examinations according to own area of subject specialism, and providing appropriate feedback to students.

Taking part in activities such as validating and examining in relation to the University's associated institutions.

Academic Role Profile

To undertake pastoral care of students

Using listening, interpersonal and pastoral care skills to deal with sensitive issues concerning students and provide support. Appreciating the needs of individual students and their circumstances. Acting as personal tutor and giving first line support. Referring students as appropriate to services providing further help.

To engage in scholarship by:

Continually updating knowledge and understanding in the field or specialism. Extending, transforming and applying knowledge acquired from scholarship to teaching, research and appropriate external activities.

To contribute to the efficient management and administration of the Faculty by:

Performing such personal administrative duties throughout the Faculty as are recognised by the University as properly within the remit of the work of academic staff, as allocated by the Head of Faculty. Such duties may include Faculty co-ordinating roles, for example, running the process of admissions, examinations or teaching quality assessment.

Advising, supervising and giving guidance to other staff

Person Specification

The post holder must have:

An honours degree or an appropriate and equivalent professional qualification in a relevant subject

Normally a doctoral degree

Normally former experience of working as a lecturer

Evidence of administrative and organisational skills

Evidence of current research/scholarship at post-doctoral level or equivalent

Relationships and Contacts

The post holder will be a member of such Faculty Committees as may be relevant to their administrative duties, for example Faculty Board of Studies and Examination Board. New appointees will be assigned a senior colleague to guide their development and aid their integration into the Faculty and university. Research priorities will be agreed within the strategic framework of the research theme of which they are a member. Teaching and administrative duties will be allocated by the Head of Faculty, within the context of the teaching programmes agreed by the Faculty Learning and Teaching Committee or similar body.

Special Requirements

To be able to participate in residential field work, in the UK or overseas, according to own area of subject specialism.

The post holder is expected to work outside normal office hours as necessary.

Academic Role Profile

All staff are expected to:

- Positively support equality of opportunity and equity of treatment to colleagues and students in accordance with the University of Surrey Equal Opportunities policy.
- Help maintain a safe working environment by:
 - Attending training in Health and Safety requirements as necessary, both on appointment and as changes in duties and techniques demand
 - Following local codes of safe working practices and the University of Surrey Health and Safety Policy
- Undertake such other duties within the scope of the post as may be requested by your Manager.

Academic Role Profile

Addendum

This document provides additional information relating to both specific aspects of the post/faculty and any post specific person specification criteria. The information contained within this document should always be read in conjunction with the accompanying generic Job Purpose.

Job Title:	Lecturer in Criminology
-------------------	-------------------------

Background Information/Relationships

The Department of Sociology is looking to recruit a Lecturer in Criminology to contribute to its highly successful research and teaching infrastructure. To match growing demand for specialisation in areas of criminology and digital crime, we are looking for a dynamic academic who can build on the prior strengths which exist within the department. This includes supporting elements of the BSc Criminology and Forensic Investigation, BSc Criminology and Psychology and BSc Criminology.

The Department of Sociology has a strong track record of maintaining research excellence alongside a strong commitment to teaching and student support. We are looking for candidates that demonstrate these attributes and values.

The post-holder will be expected to conduct high quality research, generate research income, and supervise doctoral students. They will teach on our undergraduate and postgraduate programmes, with a specific focus on criminology and digital crime.

A Teaching Qualification e.g. Postgraduate Certificate in Learning and Teaching in HE or equivalent is desirable, if such a qualification has not been attained the candidate will be expected to complete the University Graduate Certificate by the end of their first year of employment with the University.

The post holder is expected to work outside normal office hours as necessary.

Key research roles

Developing the research activities of the Faculty by sustaining a personal research plan independently and/or in collaboration with others as part of a larger research team.

Managing and undertaking research activities in accordance with a specific project plan, and supervising and guiding the work of staff and research students on own specialist area.

Developing innovative research proposals - either successful capture OR strong potential to capture research funding (as a self-contained grant or as part of a broader programme of collaborative funding), identifying sources of funding, submitting funding bids, and gaining positive reviews of these.

Academic Role Profile

Developing innovative research proposals (as a self-contained item or as part of a broader programme), identifying sources of funding, submitting funding bids, and gaining positive reviews for these. Planning the research to be undertaken.

Publishing original research in appropriate journals or other media, as appropriate.

Attending appropriate conferences for the purpose of disseminating research results or for personal development.

Key teaching roles

Developing new teaching methods and designing programme units, and taking responsibility for the quality of programme units.

Planning, delivering and critically reviewing a range of teaching and assessment activities including lectures.

Training and supervising of students (including research students) and acting as a tutor for industrial/professional training year students, according to own area of subject specialism.

Setting/marking programme work, practical sessions, supervisions, fieldwork and examinations according to own area of subject specialism, and providing appropriate feedback to students.

Taking part in activities such as validating and examining in relation to the University's associated institutions.

Key pastoral roles

Using listening, interpersonal and pastoral care skills to deal with sensitive issues concerning students and provide support. Appreciating the needs of individual students and their circumstances. Acting as personal tutor and giving first line support. Referring students as appropriate to services providing further help.

Key administrative roles

Performing such personal administrative duties throughout the Faculty as are recognised by the University as properly within the remit of the work of academic staff, as allocated by the Head of Faculty. Such duties may include Faculty co-ordinating roles, for example, running the process of admissions, examinations or teaching quality assessment.

Advising, supervising and giving guidance to other staff

The post-holder will report to the Head of Sociology.

Academic Role Profile

Person Specification

This section describes the sum total of knowledge, experience & competence required by the post holder that is necessary for standard acceptable performance in carrying out this role. This is in addition to the criteria contained within the accompanying generic Job Purpose.

Qualifications and Professional Memberships	Essential/ Desirable
A relevant Doctoral Degree awarded.	E
Experience of lecturing in Criminology, ideally with specialisms in digital crime.	E
Evidence of a clear and developing profile of high-quality publications in international journals.	E
Ability and willingness to teach modules across the Department (in both Criminology and Sociology).	E
Expertise in research methodology, ideally with criminological application.	E
Ability to undertake key student support and relevant pastoral duties.	E
Ability to undertake other administrative duties.	E
Track record of successfully obtaining grant funding (internal or external)	D

Key Responsibilities

This document is not designed to be a list of all tasks undertaken but an outline record of any faculty/post specific responsibilities. This should be read in conjunction with those contained within the accompanying generic Job Purpose.

1. Develop a strong research profile through publications and research activity
2. Co-ordinate undergraduate and/or postgraduate modules in the Department of Sociology, with a particular focus on criminology and digital crime.
3. Generate research income from funded projects
4. Teach seminars and lectures at undergraduate and/or postgraduate level
5. Supervise undergraduate and postgraduate students, including PhD supervision
6. Contribute to academic administration as assigned by the Head of Department

N.B. The above list is not exhaustive.